

Three Kinds of Starters (2/2)

A Symbiotic Manager Dependent person is sometimes unable to produce his own Starting Stress and/or Maintenance Stress. But he is willing to accept Starting Stress and Maintenance Stress from a manager. Hence, he usually has a productive day.

An Adversarial Manager Dependent person is sometimes unable to produce his own Starting Stress and/or Maintenance Stress. Unfortunately, he is not willing to accept Starting Stress and Maintenance Stress from a manager. Hence, he usually has a discouraging and unproductive day.
